AFTER BARNYARD ARISTOCRACYProf. Gilmore Sails for Mainland to Select Herd for College of Agriculture.Among the passengers departing on the Sierra yesterday was John W. Gilmore, president of the College of Hawaii. The board of regents had discussed fully the proposition of stocking the dairy laboratory and poultry yards that are now being built on the grounds of the college in Manoa Valley. As a result of the meeting it was decided that President Gilmore should go to the mainland to purchase some of the stock necessary for this equipment.Some of the cattle and poultry will be purchased from breeders here, but it is also desired to add several breeds of dairy cattle that are now well represented here. By doing this not only will there be a greater diversity of breeds and consequently a wider adaptability to feed and pasture conditions and milk giving qualities, but students attending the college will have more material and better opportunities for study in this important branch of agriculture. Moreover the college hopes to add to the breeders and dairymen of Hawaii to improve their herds both in productive qualities as well as in adaptability and choice of breeds.Aside from the Jerseys and Holsteins some of which will be purchased here, Mr. Gilmore will purchase a few bulls and heifers of the Ayrshires and Guernseys. Both of these breeds are prominent in many parts of the United States and should be a distinct addition to the dairy interests here. The cattle and poultry purchased will not only be pure bred but they will be selected for qualities and characteristics that are typical of the respective breeds. These are important points for a college herd.The stock to be purchased will be housed in buildings now being erected in Manoa Valley, the dairy building will be sanitary in all its appointments and the cattle will have the run of clean pasture of sixteen acres recently purchased. The stock is being purchased from federal funds while the buildings are being erected by funds from the conservation portion of the income tax. This is a judicious expenditure of such funds, for by the experiments and demonstrations in feeding and milk and egg production these industries should be greatly encouraged and have a far-reaching influence.President Gilmore will also attend as a delegate the Dry Farming Congress at Spokane and several educational conventions on the Pacific Coast. He will also speak at several of the universities and colleges.TOO MUCH BLINDNESS.The municipal treasury was enriched multitudes of girls is a want of proper nourishment and enough of it. Now-a-days they call this condition by the learned name of Anemia. But words change no facts. There are thousands of girls of this kind anywhere between childhood and young lady-hood. Disease finds most of its victims among them. Some of them are passing through the mysterious changes which lead up to maturity and need especial watchfulness and care. Alas, how many break down at this critical period; the story of such losses is the saddest in the history of home. The proper treatment might have saved most of these household treasures. If the mothers had only known of WAMPOL'S PREPARATION and given it to their daughters, they would have grown to be strong and healthy women. It is palatable as honey and contains all the curative properties of pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod phites and the Extracts of Malt world over and you will find nothing to equal it. Taken before meals it improves the nutritive value of ordinary foods by making them easier to assimilate, and has carried hope and good cheer into thousands of darkened homes. The Abigail Kindergarten says: "Your preparation is a sure cure for the most violent cold, if properly taken. In treating children, it has proved in many cases under our observation a sure preventive of the progress of pulmonary affections, and has in every case of incipient consumption acted as a stay of that dreadful disease." It will not disappoint has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregubut a trifle to try it, and the result

EXPLODED BY FACTSSteamer Michael Sars Proves That It Is Not Graveyard of Ocean.ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, Sept. 10.— The myth of the Sargasso Sea has been exploded. That alleged graveyard of lost ships has been exonerated. The story writers who have found the Sargasso Sea such a fruitful theme for tales of derelicts trapped in the slimy, weedy stretches of a marine desert clogged with floating islands of sea-weeds, must needs find a new scene for their dramas.For the Sargasso Sea is not the weedy waste that it is painted. There are seaweeds there, of course, but not enough to seriously impede the navigation of any ordinary vessel.The steamer Michael Sars of the United States hydrographic service, sent out from Plymouth last April with a company of scientists aboard, has just come into this port after a three-month study of the Sargasso Sea, with the report that the stories about the mass of seaweed caught in the dead waters of the central Atlantic north of the Cape Verde Islands are greatly exaggerated.Lieutenant Ridgely of the United States Navy, who was with the expedition, says:"Through the dynamical forces arising from the earth's rotation which cause all moving masses in the northern hemisphere to tend to be deflected toward the right hand side of their path, the algae that are borne by the Gulf stream from the tropical seas find their way toward the inner edge of the circulatory drift which moves in a clockwise direction around the central part of the North Atlantic. In this central part the flow of the surface waters is not steady in any direction, and hence the floating seaweed tends to accumulate there.""The tendency to accumulate is perhaps most observable in the triangular region marked out by the Azores, the Canaries and the Cape Verde Islands.""The abundance of seaweed in the Sargasso Sea fluctuates much with the seasons, but the hydrographic office does not possess any authentic records to show that it has ever been accumulated in such amount as to materially impede vessels passing over the part of the ocean."The scientists with the expedition say that the Sargasso Sea is, particularly in spring, a strange and beautiful sight. It is not a mass of slimy, brown seaweed, there is found clean, and now and then a wonderful transparent swarm with green heads on the end of long stalks. These are the happy dandelions and they dash a brilliant glow of light.A QUICK LIEPromises of quick recovery saved all kinds of tales of the Sargasso Sea and about Wilder crossed a single one thick right into a corner of the room telling himself of the lie."You are the late, my dear sir," replied the waiter. "A gentleman who passed a vulgar eye stole my watch."SURE CURE FOR DIARRHOEA.An ordinary attack of diarrhoea may
